Information regarding personal data from application

The data submitted by an individual with the electronic application form for enrollment at the web address https://portal.evs.gov.si/prijava/ is stored in the eVŠ information system. The eVŠ is managed by the Ministry of Education, Science and Sport.

Data from applications for enrollment is used by higher education institutions for the purposes of the selection procedure for enrollment, as regulated by the Higher Education Act and the Rules on the Call for Enrollment and Implementation of Enrollment in Higher Education which specifies the call for enrollment.

Data on applications for enrollment in eVŠ can be accessed only by authorized persons of higher education institutions and the eVŠ administrator. Each higher education institution can only access the data of applications for enrollment for its study programs.

The data collected with the application for registration is stored in the eVŠ information system until the registration or until the expiry of the appeal procedures, after which it is archived in an anonymised form. Until the data anonymizing, an individual can access its data via the electronic application form for registration.

Data on completed applications for enrollment is forwarded from the eVŠ to higher education institutions, which process these data in accordance with Article 81a of the Higher Education Act. Higher education institutions cease to process the applicants data on the day of enrollment in the study program or on the expiry date of the appeal procedure. For enrolled students, higher education institutions keep personal data in their records of enrolled students from the day of their enrollment in the study program until the day of enrollment or completion of their studies.

During the retention of the data (until anonymisation or deletion of data) an individual may submit a request for the data from the operator of the information system in which the data is stored. He can as well request correction of the data if he finds that they are inaccurate and can limit their processing until the data is corrected.

The authorized person for personal data protection of the Ministry of Education, Science and Sport is available for questions regarding the processing of personal data from the application for registration at the e-mail address: povop.mizs (a) gov.si.
